

Website Contributors, Authors, Editors etc.

if you have been given a user name and password what can you do?

Contributor

If you are a contributor you can create and edit posts. You will also be able to delete your own posts.

Your posts will not be seen on the web site until they have been moderated by a member of the website management team.

If you would like to request permission to be a contributor please use the contact form below and explain the reasons why the website will be improved if you are able to contribute to it.

Authors

If you are an Author you will be able to publish your own posts.

Editors and Administrators have more influence on how the website looks. If you think you might need to do more please contact the Administration Team.
